

CHAPTER 3

The menu

David had been working in the kitchen for over a week, now. The work was hard, but he did not mind.

He loved watching all of the strange foods that were being made by the Chef.

He had spotted dishes, such as beans on fish, sweet corn and ice cream, and tea served with a side order of squid.

Mr Wu would constantly run in and out of the kitchen, making sure everything was OK.

David could never manage to sneak a peek into the diner. There was a set of double doors that never seemed to be open at the same time.

The Chef would make the food and serve it through a hatch in the wall.
